Main news

- The World Health Organization (WHO) says the highly contagious Delta variant is now dominant across Europe and the US, accounting for at least 68% of infections in Europe and 51.7% in the US.
- Australia’s capital Canberra has announced a one-week lockdown after reporting its first locally acquired case of COVID-19 in more than a year.
- California has become the first US state to require teachers and other school staff to be vaccinated or regularly tested for COVID-19.
- The World Health Organization (WHO) will test three new drugs as potential treatments for people in hospital with severe COVID-19, expanding its global trial to 52 countries.
- The FDA are set to clear a third dose of Covid vaccines for people with weak immune systems as a new study showed the benefits of an extra shot in transplant patients.
- The United States will send an additional 8.5 million coronavirus vaccine doses to Mexico, as both countries continue to grapple with a spike in infections, fueled by the highly contagious Delta variant.
- The Pentagon said on Monday that, beginning next month, the US is prepared to require all US military to get vaccinated against COVID-19.
- Fully vaccinated American Tourists are now allowed to enter Canada as Prime Minister Trudeau lifts months-long restrictions on non-essential travel into the country.
